Networking

Managed Connections

We can design, build, deploy and manage networks for large and small organisations. We provide reliable and secure networks that facilitate smoother operations, enhance productivity and maximize effectiveness.

A properly designed and implemented computer network will go a long way towards improving office productivity, communication, and organization. There are an enormous number of ways in which a network will benefit your business.

Examples of just a few of the benefits include:

-  File Sharing Networks
Allow users to keep files on a single PC, making document management much simpler.
-  Resource Sharing
In addition to files, other resources, such as your Internet connection, can be shared between PCs on the network.
-  Device Sharing
An immediate cost benefit is realized when you share a printer over the network, allowing multiple PCs to attach to a single printer.
